

ON-CHAIN ALARMS · TELEGRAM + WEB

No ready-made signals. You build your own alarm monster.

Coin prices, whale wallets and token unlocks — you set the thresholds, the monster wakes you up.

The alert is yours. The edge is ours.

New since the last guide

The bot grew. Here is what changed — each item has its own page further on.

One plan, $5

Starter and Full are gone. One plan with everything: $5 a month or $48 a year. Earlier payers had their days extended to match what they paid.

coldca.app web panel

Your list, whale moves, unlocks and 7-day charts in the browser. Sign in with Telegram.

Feels like an app

Add coldca.app to your home screen on iPhone or Android; it opens in one tap.

Open in Arkham

Whale and coin cards carry a button that opens the contract on Arkham Intelligence.

Unlock calendar

/unlocks lists your coins' unlocks for 30 days; alarms come 48h, 24h and 1h before.

Tune every alarm

Thresholds per coin and per chain, straight from the card. All of them in /thresholds.

Your report times

Pick when the Daily Diff Report and the Hook reach you with /myreports.

Strategy, radar, Top 500

Write your own conditions with /strategy; Robinhood Chain radar; market-wide unusual volume on the top 500 coins.

Add one coin, get four alarms

From the second a coin enters your list it is watched for four things. You don't have to set anything.

Whale in / out

An exchange cold wallet or a tracked whale moves your coin: direction, size, which wallet — and a button to Arkham.

Volume

The coin trades about 4× its own hourly average. No fixed number: a $200K coin and a $2B coin get the same fairness.

Unlock

A token unlock is coming. You hear it three times — 48h, 24h and 1h before. Never after.

Price

A sliding reference: +15% fires, the bar moves, the next +15% fires again. Down works the same way.

And the chorus

When independent whale wallets turn the same way on the same coin within hours, you get one Chorus card instead of scattered alarms. One wallet can be wrong; a chorus is harder to fool.

Silence is information too: if nothing on your list moves, you hear nothing.

Set up in four steps

- 1 Start the bot, pick your language
Open @coldandcatrackerbot, send /start, choose one of 7 languages and accept the rules. The 7-day free trial starts by itself.
- 2 Paste a contract address
Paste the CA into the chat — no command needed. The bot finds the chain; if the token lives on several, it asks you.
- 3 Set your thresholds once
/settings: one price % and one whale $ for your whole list. Fine-tune any coin or chain later.
- 4 Read the cards, silence the noise
Buttons under each card mute that pair, change its threshold, copy the CA or open it on Arkham.

Stuck? Type /reset. Need a human? /support.

Three promises

- No wallet, no API key. Ever. You never connect a wallet or share a seed phrase. A contract address is the whole onboarding.
- We don't drop silently. If a data source doesn't answer, the card isn't swallowed — it reaches you and you decide.
- We don't sell addresses. Shark addresses stay hidden: you get the card, not the list. That keeps the edge alive.

Every alarm is yours to change

Each alarm starts with a sensible default. Every default can be changed — for the whole list, per coin, per chain — or muted per pair.

1 Whole list — /settings

One price % and one whale $ for everything. Set once, every coin lines up.

2 Per coin

A calm coin: smaller moves. A wild coin: only big ones. Use  in /list or the coin button under a card.

3 Per chain

For example, only whale moves above $250K on Solana. Use the chain button under a whale card.

4 See it all — /thresholds

Every coin and chain threshold you set, in one list; reset any of them in one tap.

Six moves under every card

Settings live on the card: you never have to leave the alarm to change it.

Whales, mutes and report times

Per-whale fine tuning (/whales)

- Scope — watch this wallet on all coins, or only on your list
- Coin filter — type specific contracts; you hear from that whale only on those
- Size — a separate threshold per whale — follow a small but accurate wallet with a low bar
- Direction — inflow only, outflow only, or both

Mute and unmute

Muting is one tap under the card — a pair, a whale, or one shark on one coin. /alarmlarim shows everything you muted and brings it back in one tap.

Report times (/myreports)

The Daily Diff Report (with the Intuition section) and the morning Hook come at default times. Pick the hour that fits your day.

Too many cards?

Raise the threshold of that coin or chain instead of muting it. You keep the big moves and lose the noise.

Know the unlock before the market moves

Token unlocks put new supply on the market on a known date. The bot keeps that calendar for the coins on your list.

/unlocks

Your coins' unlocks for the next 30 days: date, amount, estimated dollar value and share of supply.

Three alarms

48 hours, 24 hours and 1 hour before. Never after the fact.

History

How the price behaved on this coin's past unlocks — how many times it fell, how many times it rose.

On the web

The Unlocks tab on coldca.app shows the next 30 days; every coin page shows its own.

Combine it: a cold wallet inflow a few days before a big unlock tells a very different story from silence.

One tap to Arkham

Arkham Intelligence labels wallets — exchanges, funds, market makers. We put it one tap away.

Button on the card

Whale and coin cards on Ethereum, BNB Chain, Base and Solana carry Open in Arkham, right under Copy CA.

Button on the web

Every coin page on coldca.app has Open in Arkham and Open in explorer.

/discover

Finds a coin's own whales: pools, exchanges and bots are filtered out; real wallets come with Arkham links and their recent direction.

/balinatrend

Whale trend for any symbol — even one that isn't on your list.

Add what you find — /whales

Found a wallet worth following? Add it with /whales (up to 20). From then on its moves reach you as cards.

Honest warning: most big wallets are exchange rotation, market makers or bridges. Finding real smart money is hard — that's exactly why it's valuable.

The system that works while you don't type

The real strength isn't the commands — it's the layers running in the background, for every coin you add.

Cold wallet network

Exchange cold wallets sweep many coins in one transaction; we split it per coin, tag in vs out and send only yours.

Chorus

Independent sharks turning the same way on the same coin — the bot's strongest card.

Sharks

Hand-picked wallets with a strong record. A meaningful move is reported under a code name.

Top 500 unusual volume

The top 500 coins are scanned all day. One trading far above its own normal reaches everyone, even if it's not on your list — at most 3 per round, mutable in one tap.

The Hook — every morning

A filtered list of candidates from the archive. There may be a fish, there may not — the data is yours. Not buy or sell advice.

Reports, radar and stocks

Daily Diff Report

Every morning: what moved on your list, what didn't, what unlocks next — with the Intuition section. Weekly AI report with /rapor.

Robinhood Chain radar

Hours-old tokens, three doors in: momentum, early pool and Bitstamp's list. A card says what it is, never what to do. Last 24h: /radar.

Quality gates

A trap scan on every radar token, and no sell route means no card. Wild prices from the wrong pool are cross-checked and dropped.

Tokenized stocks

NVDA, TSLA, AAPL as on-chain tokens, with the same price alarms (/stock). Insiders' open-market buys (SEC Form 4) arrive as cards.

SMA table

/sma: where your coins stand against their 4-hour, daily and weekly averages.

How it lands on your phone

Illustrative examples — names and numbers are samples. Real cards also carry the contract, chain and an explorer link.

Write it in your own words

With /strategy you describe a condition the way you'd say it. The bot turns it into clear rules, shows a confirmation card, then watches — and pings you when it's met.

Example

“Tell me if PENDLE drops 10% and a cold wallet takes in more than $500K the same day.”

The bot never says buy or sell. The conditions are yours, and so is the decision.

Combinations worth knowing

Chorus + unusual volume — quiet accumulation may be over; the story is becoming visible.

Cold wallet inflow + quiet price — supply is changing hands; the market hasn't noticed yet.

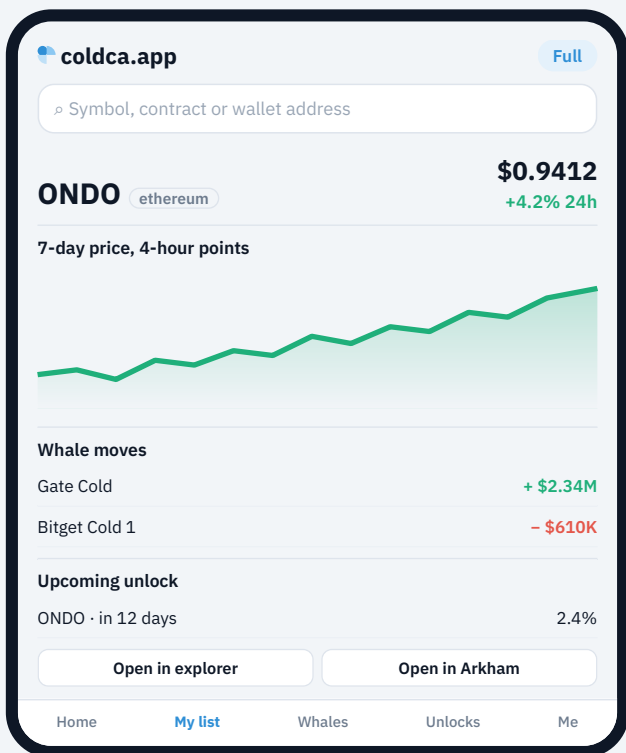

Unlock ahead + cold wallet outflow — new supply is coming while tokens leave cold storage — worth a closer look.

Chorus distribution + rising price — could be the last leg of a rally. Opposite cards teach as much as matching ones.

No single card is an order. Cards buy you time; you make the call.

Not a dashboard. The moment worth looking at.

Institutional dashboards are priced for trading desks. We do the part you keep on your phone: no screen to stare at — the bot sends only the moment worth looking at. That's why it costs about a coffee a month.

- Chorus logic. Single-wallet alerts are everywhere; few measure independent wallets turning the same way.
- Hand-picked roster. Wallets were added by watching behaviour; market-maker and bot wallets are left out on purpose.
- A bot that keeps its own score. Past calls are archived and shown on cards. We don't brag; we keep records.

Fair use

- Shark and roster addresses stay hidden; cards give code names, not addresses.
- Cards are personal. Mass sharing, automated reposting or feeding them into another service ends the subscription.
- Code names (Stigmata, Poseidon...) are random labels with no link to anyone's real identity.
